EXPLODING BULLET THEORY

WHAT WE ALL GENERALLY AGREE ON IS THAT KYLE ROBINSION DID NOT FIRE A BULLET THAT HIT CHARLE KIRK

Here is my two cents:

We all agree that he was set up as the PATSY and that others in the crowd acted as diversions that were also involved. People knew in advance that the assassination was planned so that who ever took the shot was part of a group that participated in the assassination.

The physics of what is going on with Charlie's neck when he was assassinated does not fit a roof top shooting, which appears to be another diversion away from the real shooter. Gary from Paramount Tactical experts say there is no chance that the gun used was a .30-06 caliber German rifle that shot the bullet that hit Charlie's neck O  - NO CHANCE!

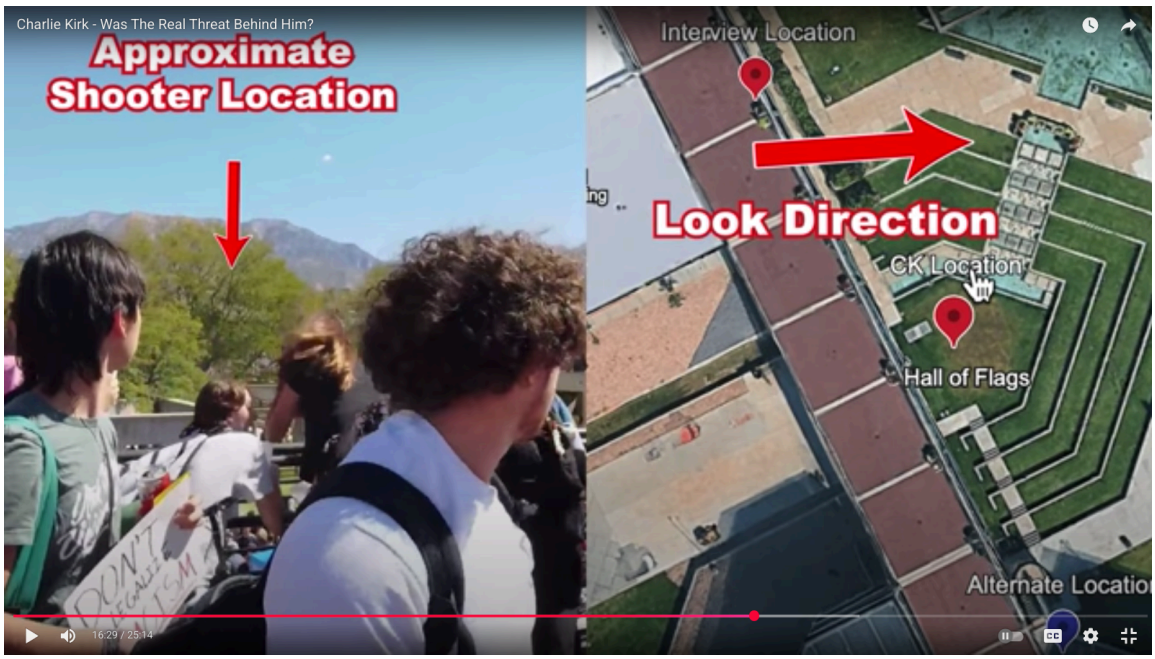
We all agree that the text message to Tyler's roommate was a set up the FBI etc., could easily place on his roommates phone.  We also have to remember that Tyler was a KIDDER a JOKER another fact the media and official report ignores.

We all agree that many killer groups would have liked to have taken the shot and we can accuse the transgender mafia, Israeli Mossad etc., but bottom line all of them are under the umbrella of the DEEP STATE.  In the end, the BUCK STOPS WITH THE DEEP STATE.



SO LET'S FOCUS ON CHARLIE'S NECK AS HE WAS HIT

It actually sounds like the bullet came from a pistol according to a witness with a red hat in the front row. If the bullet hit the back neck and hairline on right side of Charlie's head we see in this picture below we may not see the entry wound however the bullet would have blown up in his neck and throat. Remember the exploding bullet theories. Could a much smaller bullet shot from a pistol have entered somewhere in the back of his head and exploded INSIDE his throat and neck which caused the neck bulge we see in this picture below?

WE HAVE NO EXIT WOUND EITHER but we do have that red dot on the front of his neck which could be the start of the bullet coming through enough for it to bleed.

Notice Charlie's head is going back with more of a running blood trickle from a small exit wound in front of his neck were the bullet may have lodged. The bullet would have remained in his head or neck while some of the blood drained down.

THEORY 2

We clearly have a projectile of some kind heading for Charlie's neck.

We clearly have a projectile of some kind heading for Charlie's neck. that do not appear to be a bug.

This projectle could have put a small hole in the neck of his teashirt pulling the neck of his teashirt  up as the bullet went through the neck of the teeshirt.

Notice the swell in his neck. and cheek.

This hole was not in his teeshirt before the shots were fired.

That could be the reason Charlie's throat blew up like it did as the bullet exploded.

Look at what appears to be a tiny hole in the neckline of his teachirt that elevated the neckline of his teashirt when the bullet hit. If it was an exploding bullet their would not have been an EXIT WOUND except for a small hole.  Their is so much halla baloo about what caused his plate and teashirt to rise like it did.  Yet the provailing theory now is that he was not wearing a vest.

Teashirt Neckline moving up as the bullet hits

Notice at the exact spot where the round red blood mark can be seen later,  that very spot on theTeashirt neckline lifted right up to that spot.

Did the bullet lift the tee-shirt up the exact spot we see what could be an entrance wound? It sure looks like it to me.

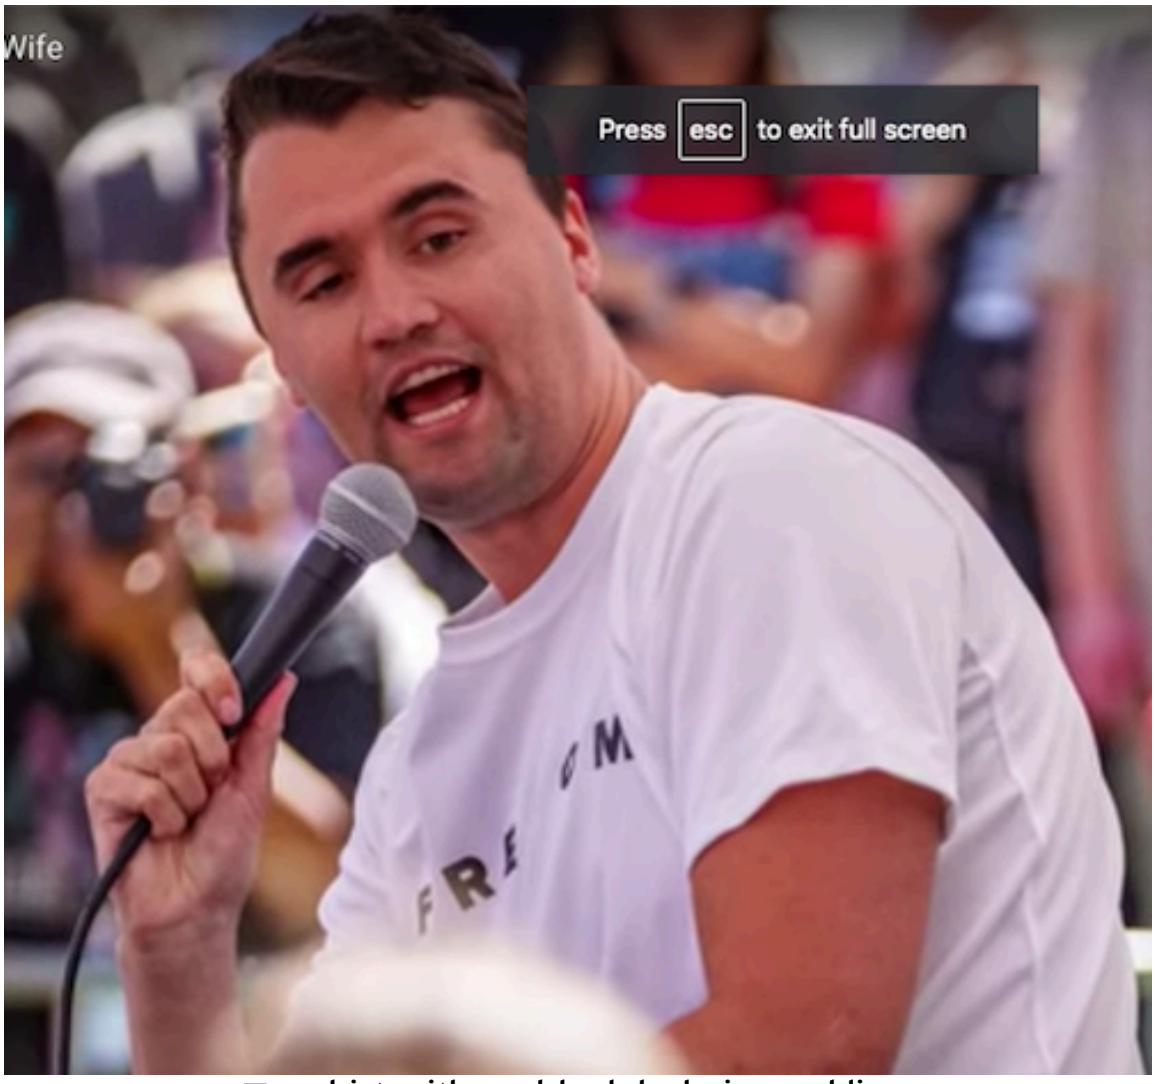
Possibly Wearing A Carrier Like This With Or Without Armor But Armor Is Easily Added When Desired

One type of chest plate armor

Again Notice the bulge in Charlie's neck.

Was the blood on the neck that is being pointed to by this pod caster coming out the ear canal? With no autopsy, how do we know?

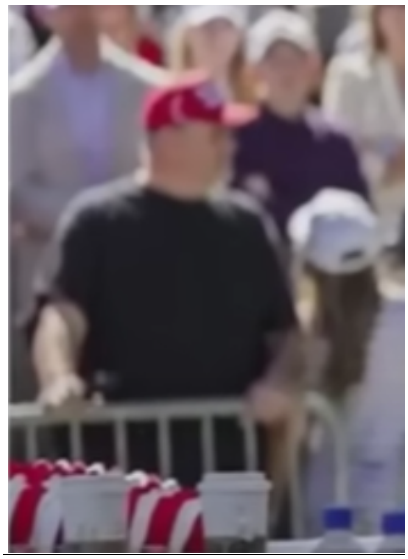


Teeshirt with no black hole in neckline

No Vest that we can tell under his teeshirt and not hole in teeshirt

Little Projectile hole in Charlie's Neck Tee-shirt

WE ARE BEING TOLD NOW THAT THIS IS NOT A BULLET ENTRANCE WOUND THEN WHAT IS IT?



EYE WITNESS IN FRONT ROW SAID THE BULLET CAME FROM A HAND GUN  AKA PISTOL RIGHT IN FRONT OF THE CROWD

Again no autopsy was preformed so that we can't answer that question.

AI Overview

An exploding bullet is a projectile containing an explosive or incendiary charge designed to detonate or ignite upon impact, causing severe damage to a target by creating an explosion or a high-temperature burn. Historically, types like the Russian PZ round and the German B-Patrone were developed for anti-material or observation purposes, but some were used against people, leading to their widespread prohibition under international law for anti-personnel use.

These exploding self defense bullets enter the body and explode but do not exit.  The most they leave is a protrusion when going through the body.
